HOC SIGNO FORTUNA.

BALTIMORE, THURSDAY, May 8, 1823.

ON WEDNESDAY NEXT,

Will commence the drawing of the patriotic scheme of the MONUMENT LOTTERY. Adventurers should speedily complete their investments, as early purchasers have a decided advantage. There will be no blanks drawn throughout the whole lottery; and as the WHOLE OF THE PRIZES ARE NOW FLOATING, except two, the superiority above mentioned is obvious. The scheme is published on our fourth page. The official lists of the drawings will be published in this paper; and for all prizes sold at COHEN'S OFFICE, the Cash can be had the moment they are drawn.

We shall continue the publication of the Register regularly every week during the drawing of the Grand State and Monument Lotteries. The Register for next week will contain the list of the first day's drawing of the Monument.

This splendid Capital Prize in the GRAND STATE LOTTERY (and for which the cash can be had at COHEN'S OFFICE the moment it is drawn) continues to attract, from its immense magnitude, the attention of adventurers from every part of the Union. In addition to the orders of our numerous friends in the South and West, we have also received a very extended increase from the Northern and Eastern States. We impute this, not only to the superior brilliancy of the Scheme, but also to the confidence of the public in the well-established and known punctuality of payment of prizes, in every scheme in which we have engaged and we anticipate in the new Schemes about to commence, we shall have the pleasure of distributing, as usual, the highest capitals. Adventurers should complete their investments as early as possible, as a decided superiority attends purchases made previous to the commencement of the drawings, as will be seen on examining the Scheme which is published in the fourth page of this day's Register.

Orders from any part of the United States, by mail (post paid) or by private conveyance, enclosing the cash, or prize tickets in any of the Baltimore Lotteries, will meet the most prompt and punctual attention, addressed to

J. I. COHEN, Jr.—Baltimore.

The Sheriff's office in this city was robbed on Tuesday night last of sundry papers, a watch and money to amount of about one hundred dollars. The thief has been apprehended and is now in jail.

At a public commencement held at the University of Maryland on the 7th of April, the degree of M. D. was conferred upon upwards of sixty gentlemen.

By letters from Paris we learn that Mr. Forsyth had left Madrid with his family on the 5th. March and was expected at Paris, where he would pass some time, previous to his embarking at Havre for the United States.

Mr. Gallatin and family were to sail from France on the 10th. of May, for the United States. He contemplates remaining six months here, and then returning as Minister to France. He comes on a furlough from his Government.

TO POSTMASTERS.—We request the attention of Postmasters generally, to the following instructions issued by the Postmaster-general, some time ago; but which may be unknown to many who have subsequently come into office:

General Post-Office, Nov. 16, 1816.

The several Postmasters are hereby required whenever a person, to whom a newspaper is addressed, ceases to take it out of the Post-office, to advise the editor of the paper thereof; and to add, if known, whether the person is dead, moved away, or merely refuses. The mail is burthened with many newspapers, which are a loss to the proprietors, as well as to the public.

R. J. MEIGS, Jun.

Post-Master General.

A new article of trade.—A few days ago a full grown Bear was brought to Fredericksburg, (Virg.) from the county of Orange and sold at Buck's Auction. During the sale, he cut many capers, to the great amusement of the numerous spectators assembled to witness the novelty of the scene.

Latest from Europe.

By the arrival of the ship Corinthian at New York, a mass of foreign intelligence is received. The latest dates are, London to the 23d, Liverpool to the 25th, and Paris to the 21st March inclusive. Preparations were still progressing towards the actual commencement of hostilities between France and Spain, which were now considered inevitable.

GREAT BRITAIN, it seems, had determined for the present, to remain neutral. The caricature shops in London display several works of fancy suggested by the threatened invasion of Spain. One represents the king of Spain as a mule, chained to the stone of the Constitution, and crying to the Duke of Angouleme to release him. The latter, represented as a jack-ass, is seen capering over the Pyrenees, and answering the call by braying. In another, Louis is striving to draw on the boots of Napoleon, and invoking the God of St. Louis to help him. As his body is bent back in the exertion, the crown is seen falling off his head, while young Napoleon stands behind ready to catch it.

It would seem that the French are making a considerable provision of rice in the English market, intended, it is supposed, for the Peninsular campaign. Upwards of 30,000 bags have been entered outwards, within a short period back, chiefly for Bourdeaux.

A general sentiment appears to prevail among the large commercial towns in Great Britain, for the repeal of the laws relative to imprisonment for debt; and petitions have been presented to both houses of Parliament, strongly urging the expediency of that measure.

The Bank of England had reduced their semi-annual dividend from 5 to 4 per cent.—not however, without considerable opposition from two of the proprietors, who insisted, though unsuccessfully, on having a general statement of the affairs of the Bank laid before them. The necessity of this reduction is accounted for by the general state of commerce, and the falling off in the profits of all business.

FRANCE.—According to detailed accounts of the French forces that had arrived at Bayonne, and were expected to arrive there by the 24th of April, the grand total is 47,420 infantry, and 9,310 cavalry.

Private letters inform us that the confidence of the French government was very great, that their army would march almost without obstacle to Madrid. They had ascertained, as they thought satisfactorily, that the British cabinet had determined on the strictest neutrality, and that, consequently, France has nothing to dread on that score.

SPAIN.—The latest accounts from Madrid state that every thing was quiet; that the King, the Ministers and the Cortes were to leave that capital before the 15th inst.; and the writers state, that notwithstanding the boasts of the Ultras, they were satisfied Spain would turn out the burial place of the French army. The Spaniards are confident—they know their army trebles the French, and while the French are marching on Madrid, they will march an army towards France, both in hopes of gaining converts—the one against liberty, the other in favour of it. Spain has now 200,000 men in arms, and whether they are good or bad soldiers with respect to conduct in pitched battles, we shall not attempt to decide; but we believe we may say, in defence of their country, in the mountains, and in their strong towns, they stand unrivalled. Their spirit is excellent, and they do not hesitate to state, that the French army can command not more of the country, than that on which it stands. They admit the entrance of the French into Madrid, but they add, what have they then accomplished, except that they have marched into the heart of Spain without the means of support, without the protection of the inhabitants, and without the means of resisting the enormous force of irregular troops that will be opposed to them in every direction, should they quit a high road even a mile.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS, March 24.

CORRON.—The market opened on Monday with a revived demand for Bowed, which increased till the middle of the week, when it became exceedingly animated, and the sales on Wednesday and Thursday were very extensive, at an advance of 1-8d to 1-4d per lb. The importers availing themselves of this avidity, pressed this description upon the buyers which counteracted the previous tendency of the market, and caused a trifling reaction: the currency at the close of the week, however, settled at an advance of 1-8d on our former quotations of this description. For other kinds of American Cotton there was a good demand, but no variation in price.

TOBACCO.—There continues to be a good export demand for ordinary Virginia and Kentucky leaf, which, with some purchases on speculation, has taken off about 150 hhds. at previous rates. 48 hhds. of fine wrappery Virginia leaf, for the Irish market, brought 7d. per lb. with 50 common quality at former quotations.

NAVAL STORES.—Our supply of raw Turpentine is limited, and the market getting bare; in consequence of which prices are likely to be supported. The business of the week has been confined to one parcel of 793 bbls. of good quality by auction at 15s 3d per cwt. Tar is in good request at rather better prices. 1000 bbls. of Carolina sold from the quay at 14s 6d to 15s per barrel. Baltic Tar is scarce at 22s for Stockholm and 19s to 20s for Archangel. 230 bbls. of American Pitch sold by auction at 5s cwt. in bond. Rosin steady at 6s 6d per cwt.
